NEWS SUMMARY.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

The Louisiana Republican State Convention, held at New Orleans on the 20th and 21st, nominated Taylor Beattie of Lafourche for Governor and a full ticket of minor State officers. The platform reflects the essential principles of the National Republican party; favors the improvement by the Government of the Mississippi and its tributaries, and also Government aid for a Southern Pacific railroad. The honest payment of the State debt is demanded. A resolution was adopted setting forth that if the colored people are accorded free and fair elections, allowed to vote and have their votes counted, they will remain as of right in the State; if not, they will be forced to emigrate. The election of Purnell, who is an out-and-out Sherman man, as permanent President of the Convention, is considered an endorsement of the Administration. A resolution endorsing Gen. Grant and declaring him the choice of the party for the Presidency was received with great cheering, but was never formally brought before the Convention for its action.

It is announced by authority that the Czar will pay a visit to the Emperor of Berlin in a short time. The Russian Imperial family will accompany the Czar.

Von Bulow, German Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, died on the 29th, at Frankfurt-on-the-Main.

E. L. Mansfield, one of Agent Meeker's employees at White River Agency, escaped the fate of the other men there by having gone with a message to Capt. Dodge on the day of the massacre.

The officer Lewis Chey attempted to arrest a drunken and disorderly negro, named Monroe Amos, on the public street, when the latter, who had a revolver in his hand, took flight. The officer followed him, and he was taken back taking effect in the latter's abdomen. Chey fell, but recovered himself sufficiently to draw his revolver and put a bullet through the negro, the ball penetrating very near the heart. The negro died almost instantly. Officer Chey lived several hours, when he died.

in the left breast and another in the forehead. Mother and son, strange to say, both revived enough to call for assistance. The murderer drove back to Bertha and there took the train to Cleveland, where he was arrested. He had in his possession two revolvers, every chamber of both of which was empty. When arrested he seemed somewhat frightened, but did not appear to realize the enormity of his offense. His previous reputation is that of an industrious, hard-working man, and his crime seems unaccountable.

A careful computation of the lives lost by the recent floods in Spain makes the number in excess of 2,000. The property loss is estimated at 60,000,000 francs. There were 3,500 houses and 120 mills destroyed by the flood. Large subscriptions are being made for the relief of the sufferers.

The body of George Burr of St. Louis, the companion of Prof. Wier in his last aerial voyage, was found on the lake shore near Miller's Station, Ill., 30 miles east of Chicago, on the evening of the 24th. The body was found with hatchets, made an onslaught upon the 25th, and O'Connor's saloons, broke open the doors, smashed all the decanters, and poured their contents upon the floor. They then visited the drug stores and other places where liquor and beer were sold, and admonished their proprietors that unless the objectionable articles were removed from town within 48 hours they would forcibly seize upon and destroy them. The town is torn asunder by these somewhat high-spirited proceedings, and we have heard of the destruction of the saloons, which property was destroyed have sued out warrants against the avenging fair ones, and a lively legal contest is likely to follow.

At Fredericktown, Knox County, O., on the 25th, a party of 15 mounted all-arms, with hatchets, made an onslaught upon the 25th, and O'Connor's saloons, broke open the doors, smashed all the decanters, and poured their contents upon the floor.
